Meeting the most urgent and immediate adaptation needs of the 49 Least Developed Countries will cost at least $1-2 billion.

Total money pledged to the LDC Fund – $163m – is less than what Canadians spent on hair conditioner last year.

The money received by the LDC Fund – $67m – is less than what people in the USA spend on suntan lotion in one month.

Oxfam is calling on rich and high-polluting nations to honour their commitment and provide the funds urgently needed by the world's poorest countries to adapt to climate change.
